A message for:

Probation Officers

Who Am I?

“As a probation officer (we’ve been called the workhorses of the juvenile-justice system), I am charged with supervising and finding services for delinquent youth. Often my workload is heavy and the recidivism rate disheartening. I am looking for a better way to help the young people under my charge.”

What Is MST?

MST[®] works with the at-risk youth’s entire world—parents, school, peers, community and you. Your valuable input and experience are connected to the therapy and treatment plans. 86.4 % of youth who go through the full treatment have no further arrests. What you’re looking at is being able to label a case closed, knowing that the young person you have worked with is unlikely to return to the system.
